This UN Joint Programme is aimed at reducing Gender Based Violence (GBV). The four-year programme has two-fold objectives: a) increasing GBV survivors’ access to health services, to efficient justice delivery system and to protection and support services; and b) enabling the Gender and Child Development Division to Coordinate (GCDD) an effective, evidence-based and multi-sectoral response to GBV in Zambia. It is guided by Zambia’s Sixth National Development Plan and is expected to support the ‘government in attaining zero tolerance of GBV’.

Goal of JP

To contribute to the reduction of Gender Based Violence in Zambia

Expected outcomes

1. GBV survivors have increased access to timely and appropriate health services;
2. GBV survivors have increased access to an efficient justice delivery system
3. GBV survivors have increased access to protection and support services
4. GCDD coordinates an effective, evidence-based and multi-sectoral response to GBV in Zambia.
